

definitely a non starter. Incredibly distracting as are high beams from the rear when the rear view mirror is not on the 'anti glare" setting. While the driver using them may benefit, the drivers having to face the glare and very disadvantaged